The University of Nevada Cooperative Extension (UNCE) is an educational outreach unit of the University of Nevada, Reno. UNCE provides educational programs throughout the state by conducting needs assessments, designing and delivering educational programs, and conducting evaluation studies. Known for its 4-H youth work, UNCE also offers a number of award-winning programs for vulnerable children and families.

The Nevada Title IV-B, Family Preservation and Family Support Steering Committee, a statewide committee established as a result of federal legislation, has inclusive geographical and organizational representation. The Title IV-B Committee developed and guided the implementation of the Nevada Title IV-B Family Preservation and Family Support Five-Year Plan that was submitted to the United States Department of Health and Human Services in 1995, with annual updates thereafter.

The Nevada KIDS COUNT Advisory Council, formally established in 1995, is a dedicated, 30-member council that includes statewide representation from a wide range of diverse organizations working with children or families in Nevada. This broad-based representation encompasses state government, county governments, public and Nevada agencies, Nevada KIDS COUNT partners, data providers, and the business community.

The Nevada KIDS COUNT Data Book: 2004 would not have been possible without the help of many individuals and organizations. We deeply appreciate the time, talent, and support of each one.

A special thanks to outgoing advisory council members, Candace Bennett, Elizabeth Breshears, Deborah Campbell, Paul Gowins, and Frankie Sue Del Papa, for their years of service to the Nevada KIDS COUNT project.
